Summary

Data Scientist familiar with gathering, cleaning, and organizing data for use by technical and non-technical personnel. Due to working for five years on Upwork, I have experience working with people from different backgrounds, communicating the data at many levels of abstraction dealing with tech and non-tech clients. And during the five years, I was able to maintain a perfect record by finishing all projects successfully. The wide range and variation of projects allowed me to be adaptive, flexible, and efficient at adopting new technologies and getting up to speed in no time, and that's my most valuable asset. I find a way to get things done.
